

PROVIDENCE

Science Sessional Instructors

DEPARTMENT OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Providence is a Christ-centered post-secondary institution that is striving to be among Canada's foremost Christian universities. Located 30 minutes south of Winnipeg in Otterburne (Manitoba, Canada), this institution encompasses a University College and a Theological Seminary. All interested applicants must be aware of and agree with Providence's Covenant of Community Life and Covenant of Faith.

POSTION OVERVIEW

Providence University College invites applications for one of several part-time positions as a Sessional Instructor in the sciences, beginning September 6, 2021. These positions are open for individuals with expertise in one or more of the following areas:

- Anatomy and Physiology
- Botany
- Chemistry
- Microbiology
- Zoology

These positions are for four to eight months during the 2021/2022 academic year with the potential for renewal in future years. Depending on the COVID-19 restrictions in place, these courses may be offered face-to-face or in a hybrid online mode. An ideal candidate will have a Masters or PhD in a related field, experience leading in both the classroom and laboratory, passion for student mentorship, and demonstrable independence and organizational skills.

APPLY

Applicants are encouraged to send a single email including their cover letter (explaining their areas of scientific expertise and their schedule availability), CV, and scanned undergraduate and graduate transcripts to:

Rebecca Dielschneider, Ph.D.

Science Program Coordinator and Assistant Professor of Biology

Rebecca.dielschneider@prov.ca

Open until Sunday, February 28th, 2021. We appreciate all applications, but will only contact a select few for interviews.