

WATERS, WHISPER, THUNDER

What God's Voice Sounds Like

---

Christians of various stripes try to hear God's voice in the pages of the Bible, in the quiet of prayer, and in the happenings of life. But to what exactly should Christians tune their ears? What does God's voice sound like? The Old Testament not only takes up these questions, it even spells out an answer. With help from Christian poet John Donne, and by visiting a handful of Old Testament texts, this symposium will explore the theology of God's style offered by the Scriptures. God's voice, the Old Testament says, sounds like more—a more that ends in mercy.

Presenter: Nate Wall-Bowering
Assistant Professor of Old Testament

Thursday, October 26, 2023 | 12:00pm - 1:30pm

Providence University College & Theological Seminary, Otterburne, MB
South Howison Room, Student Life Centre

This event is free and open to the public. Zoom option is also available.

Registration is required for in-person or online attendance.

Please bring a bag lunch or purchase a meal in the cafeteria and join us in the Howison Room.

