

WHEN TIME WILL BE NO MORE:

Reading the Bible Without Historians

How essential is historical criticism to properly understanding the Scriptures? This talk reflects on the ethical payoff of history-writing more generally, and considers how such writing might illuminate the truth of God, and by extension the truths of God's Word. The lecture's conclusions seek to raise fundamental questions about whether the category of "history" itself is helpfully applied to God in relation to human life.

Presenter: Dr. Ephraim Radner

Professor Emeritus of Historical Theology
Wycliffe College, University of Toronto

Tuesday, May 27, 2025 | 7:00pm

St. Margaret's Anglican Church, 160 Ethelbert St. Winnipeg

This event is free and open to the public. Zoom option is also available.
Registration is required for in-person or online attendance.